Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Agricultural Education: An Address by President Abbot, of the Michigan State Agricultural College As a matter of fact, farmers as a class have but begun the discussion of the question of Sallust. A few in each community think and read, a few either know the sciences on which agriculture depends or deplore their ignorance, a few are worthy successors of those Roman farmers of the soil, to whom the glebe, glad to be worked by men wearing civic or military crowns, yielded a large return. But the prevalent opinion is that farming requires little of the knowledge to be had in the schools. Only a Farmer expresses with all sufficient accuracy the relative position of farmers, - not their necessary, but their actual position. The occupation which should be a liberal profession is a most illiberal labor. Especial Need Of Education. There is especial need of educational work for farmers. Little comparatively has been done for them. A young man may choose out of hundreds of schools in which to study law or medicine, or the higher mathematics, or Greek and Latin. In these branches teachers and text books abound. Schools of civil engineering, even of mechanical engineering and mining abound, if we take account of the comparative fewness of the classes for which they exist. In agriculture here and there a school or a professorship struggles against deep-settled prejudices of community, and the inherited axioms of liberal education. Again, farmers are isolated, there is not that sharp action of mind upon mind which disciplines to quick perception and logical thought the artisans of a manufacturing city. Information, improvements, reach them more slowly than other...
